

Highlights

1990-1991

Rowland Hall-St. Mark's
Lower School
205 First Avenue
Salt Lake City, Utah 84103

A collage of several black and white photographs of students. In the top right, two students are smiling. In the middle right, a group of students is gathered around a table. In the bottom right, a large, decorated handprint is visible. In the bottom left, a student is working at a desk.

From the thoughts and words of our own students comes a unique perspective on the school year!

There's a clear distinction between work and play:

"315 is our favorite number!"

"Everything is hard work when you are not at home."

"I especially like the fields at school!"

"She sometimes lets us have recess and lunch!"

And a preoccupation with pets:

"Class pets are great. Squeaker is cute but he stinks and we think Maggie is pregnant."

"It's so fun to have them in the class that I persuaded my mother to get me one."

Please keep this door shut. We have an escaped rat in the room.

Gerble missing. Don't scwash him find him!

Tim is back alive and well!

And some interesting activities:

"With the after school program one gets brain challenging activities. for example chess and French."

"When we make death masks, you put vaseline on your face, and a helper puts strips of plaster coated fabric on your face, and when it hardens, you take it off and hopefully don't lose your eyebrows."

And advice:

"If I was the president:

"I wud say lats not have wore and have peas."

"I wood stop the wor. I wood talk on the telefone to hoo dan hoo same"

And concern about discipline:

"Do you have to stand behind me when I eat too?"

"If you do something bad, you can get a DAF. But if you're really bad, you have to see the headless master!"

And appreciation of our fine teachers.

"Each morning I walk into my classroom greeted by a wonderful teacher."

"All the time I've been thinking how the teachers don't stress out!"
